OpusData Movie Data Extract

This free spreadsheet contains an extract from the OpusData database with basic data for some 1,900 movies. This dataset is offered free of charge on the condition that it only be used for student projects and be acknowledged in any publication.

This offering provides a subset of our full extract offering, containing production year, production budget, total domestic and international box office, movie board rating, creative type, source, production method, genre, sequel and running time. Movies are included under the following criteria:

- Production year between 2006 and 2018.

- Figures for domestic or international box office.

- Production budget greater or equal to $10 million.

The data is extracted from our standard extracts, which are described in detail in the OpusData documentation at
